St. Supéry Announces New Hires in Key Sales Roles

Rutherford, CA (February 24, 2020): St. Supéry Estate Vineyards & Winery is pleased to announce the hiring of two key sales positions. As of January 1, 2020, Tami Richards is the Vice President, National Sales Manager. Elizabeth Parenteau is St. Supéry's Southeast Regional Manager.

Prior to joining St. Supéry, Tami spent almost 17 years at Republic National Distributing Company in Florida, where her last role was Vice President of Fine Wine and Luxury and she was a respected female voice on the leadership team. She also served as the Florida educator for Wine and Spirit Education Trust (WSET) responsible for over 600 certifications and will continue to be based out of Florida. Tami replaces Susie Owen who is retiring after nine successful years with St. Supéry Vineyards & Winery.

Elizabeth Parenteau serves as St. Supéry's Regional Manager for the Southeast, replacing Jackie Campbell who is also retiring. Now based in Ft. Lauderdale, Elizabeth began her career in Chicago working for fine wine distributors in downtown Chicago and then spending nine years growing Hahn's footprint in the Southeast followed by joining Frank Family as a regional manager.

Emma Swain, CEO of St. Supéry says, "We are excited to enter 2020 with these key roles in place. We thank Susie Owen and Jackie Campbell for their passion and dedication and wish them well in their retirement."
